Dear Parents,

As a Headmistress, I often find myself reflecting on the values we wish to nurture in our children—not merely as lessons for the classroom, but as habits for life.

Recently, we came across a short video with a beautiful message: keeping our surroundings clean and tidy should never be seen as the sole responsibility of a mother, teacher or maid. Children should not merely be helpers, but partners in creating a clean and organised environment. The thought stayed with us, and this month, we decided to consciously bring this value into our classrooms.

We encouraged our little ones to take ownership—to keep their belongings neat, arrange their books, return things to their designated places and leave their surroundings tidy. We wanted them to understand that responsibility begins with each one of us.

What made this lesson especially meaningful was a message we received from a parent. She shared how their little one, who had earlier been reluctant to tidy up, had suddenly begun doing these things voluntarily, without being reminded.

That simple message felt like a beautiful Teachers' Day gift.

For a teacher, there is perhaps no greater joy than seeing a little lesson take root and quietly become part of a child's life.

With gratitude and warm wishes,

Mrs. Tresa Mathew
Headmistress

Fruits Day – Taste, Create & Celebrate!

Our little ones had a fruit -filled day exploring the goodness and creativity of fruits! From colourful fruit skewers and salads to a refreshing lemonade party and imaginative fruit platters, every activity was a treat. The Fireless Cooking Competition with moms and the adorable PreKG fruity ramp walk added extra sparkle to the celebration!

Caring for Little Eyes

A Vision Screening Camp, was conducted in association with the Rotary Club of Cochin Airport. The initiative highlighted the importance of early detection and regular vision screening, taking a proactive step towards safeguarding the visual health of our young learners.

Celebrating Our Teachers

Teachers' Day was a meaningful occasion to honour the dedication, commitment and care of our teachers. Our heartfelt appreciation goes to the KG PTA for organising a thoughtful celebration filled with warmth and affection. Their gracious gesture made our teachers feel valued and appreciated.
